FLATKART

Terms & Conditions of Marketplace Use and Purchase

Document ID: FK-LEG-TNC-007 Version: 1.0

Owner: Legal and Marketplace Operations

Effective: 12 October 2026 Review: 12 April 2027

Classification: Public-facing simulation draft

SIMULATION DOCUMENT — Fictional company, policies, contacts, timelines, and examples created for RAG-system testing. Not an actual company policy or legal advice.

Important notice

This is a fictional terms-and-conditions draft for a RAG demonstration. It is not legal advice, is not ready for real-world publication, and must be reviewed by qualified counsel for the relevant jurisdictions before use. It does not purport to exclude any mandatory consumer right.

1. Acceptance and scope

These terms govern use of the fictional Flatkart marketplace, account features, and purchase workflow. By using the service, a user acknowledges these terms as presented at the relevant point of use, subject to applicable law. Additional product, seller, promotion, or service-specific terms may apply when disclosed before purchase.

Where a specific order confirmation or product-page term conflicts with a general summary, the applicable order-specific term should be reviewed in context. Nothing in this clause permits a term to override a mandatory legal protection.

2. Accounts and account security

Users should provide accurate information needed to place and receive orders and should keep account credentials confidential. Users should notify Flatkart through the official channel if they suspect unauthorized access.

Users must not impersonate another person, use the service for fraud, interfere with system security, or attempt to access accounts or data without authorization. Flatkart may apply proportionate restrictions while investigating suspected misuse, subject to applicable law and any required notice or review.

3. Product information and availability

Product descriptions, images, specifications, seller information, and availability are provided to help customers make purchasing decisions. Images may show illustrative presentation; material product attributes and variant selection should be checked on the product page.

Stock and prices can change before an order is accepted. If a material listing error or stock issue is discovered, Flatkart will review the order and communicate an available remedy consistent with applicable law. A listing error does not authorize misleading or unfair treatment of a customer.

4. Orders and payment

Submitting an order is a request to purchase the selected items. Order acceptance, payment authorization, and dispatch are confirmed through the order workflow. A confirmation message may indicate receipt of an order request and should be read with the status shown in the account.

Customers must use payment methods made available through the official checkout. They should not provide passwords, OTPs, UPI PINs, card PINs, or CVVs to support staff or third parties claiming to assist with an order.

Prices, shipping charges, taxes, discounts, and payment methods applicable to an order are those disclosed at checkout, subject to correction and applicable law.

5. Delivery and risk

Delivery estimates are indicative unless an expressly confirmed commitment applies. Customers should provide a complete address and contact details needed for delivery. Carrier tracking is evidence of status but may be investigated when a customer reasonably disputes a delivery event.

Where a parcel is delayed, lost, or marked delivered but not received, customers should contact support through an official channel. Flatkart will review available fulfilment and carrier records and determine an appropriate next step under the applicable policy and law.

6. Returns, replacements, refunds, and cancellations

Returns, replacements, refunds, and cancellations are governed by the Return, Refund & Cancellation Policy and Product Catalogue & Replacement Eligibility Standard presented for the relevant order or product.

The general simulated return window is 7 calendar days after carrier-confirmed delivery for eligible products. The general Flatkart refund processing target is 5–7 business days after the return is received and the refund is approved; the bank or payment provider may require additional time to post the credit.

Product categories may have exclusions or different terms disclosed before purchase. These exclusions do not remove rights that cannot lawfully be excluded. Customers should follow the official authorization and return instructions for the case.

7. Acceptable use and prohibited conduct

Users must not use the marketplace to commit fraud, upload malicious code, abuse support staff, interfere with other users, scrape or harvest personal information without authorization, or misrepresent the condition or identity of returned goods.

Flatkart may investigate credible reports and take proportionate action, including limiting features or suspending an account where justified. Decisions should be documented and reviewed through an appropriate process when required.

8. Reviews, user content, and intellectual property

Users are responsible for ensuring that content they submit is lawful and does not knowingly infringe another person's rights. Users should not post another person's private information, threats, malware, or deceptive reviews.

Marketplace names, branding, software, and original content are owned by Flatkart or its licensors unless stated otherwise. A user retains rights they hold in submitted content but grants only the limited permissions needed to display and process that content for the requested service, subject to the actual product terms and applicable law.

9. Privacy and security

Personal information is handled as described in the Privacy Policy and applicable notices. Users should report suspected account compromise or disclosure of sensitive information promptly through official support channels.

Flatkart applies reasonable safeguards but cannot promise that every system or transmission is entirely free from risk. This statement does not reduce any security obligation imposed by applicable law.

10. Disclaimers and liability

To the extent permitted by applicable law, marketplace features may be temporarily unavailable due to maintenance, network conditions, or events outside reasonable control. Flatkart will use reasonable efforts to restore service and communicate material disruptions where appropriate.

Nothing in these terms excludes or limits liability, remedies, warranties, or consumer rights that cannot lawfully be excluded or limited. Any limitation that is legally permitted must be specifically reviewed and drafted for the applicable jurisdiction before real-world publication.

11. Complaints, updates, and governing law

Questions or complaints should be submitted through the official support channel shown on the service or order confirmation. The Customer Support & Complaint Escalation SOP describes the simulated internal handling process.

Flatkart may update these terms by publishing a revised version and providing notice where required. The effective date should be visible. Governing law, dispute forum, legal entity details, and statutory disclosures must be completed by counsel before any real publication; they are intentionally not invented in this simulation.

12. Contact and related documents

Simulation contact placeholder: legal@flatkart.example. The .example domain is reserved for examples and is not a real support address.

Related documents: Privacy Policy; Return, Refund & Cancellation Policy; Product Catalogue & Replacement Eligibility Standard; Shipping, Delivery & Order Tracking Policy; Payments, Pricing & Promotional Offers Policy.

Document control: Version 1.0 • Prepared for internal RAG ingestion and testing • Review before real-world use.